Measure: HB3501

There seems to be a disconnect between citizens that own homes, pay taxes and live by the laws. To allow the further destruction of our towns by changing laws to suit government that has no idea how to solve problems. What happened to mental hospitals, drug control, not to mention allowing bills to ease drug use. No penalties for using drugs around our children and businesses. Government is driving away responsible citizens and losing businesses to the homelessness that was created by lack of foresight. Now that bills let drugs and bad behavior, not to mention robberies and killing go unpunished - You want to give them public spaces that the tax payers have entrusted government to keep clean for all to enjoy. Where do you live that you feel it is ok to do this? No wonder I have 5 friends who have moved out of state and where fed up with Government not taking care of tax payers. I am retired and spent all my live to get where I am. You are taking all that I have accomplished and thrown it away. I loved it here, my friend and I grew up here, so where con we go? You have heard this before, but obviously you do not listen to the people who pay for your salaries.
