Measure: HB3501

Public space is supported through our tax dollars, yet it has become difficult and often dangerous for much of the public to use these spaces due to people setting up residence there. Over recent years there have been murders, arson and unintentional fires started by these individuals which has impacted the surrounding residents. The Alameda fire in Phoenix/Talent is one example. We need to return our parks and public spaces to their intended use and focus on creating affordable housing solutions for the homeless population.
