How will you manage drug using homeless individuals setting up permanent camp in a park next to a children's play structure? How will you manage the homeless individual who disregards the laws exception that prohibits permanent camp in the zone of pedestrian traffic? Portland is disgusting, with fentanyl zombies walking around every street corner, human feces spread on historic downtown buildings, tents catching fire because of improper heating equipment, homeless rvs catching fire and taking out internet usage for days for communities. This bill is not helping the homeless community as you're telling them that living in a tent on a side of the street and public defecation are to be normalized and are "okay".
