Hello, My name is Liz Kuna. I'm a daughter, a sibling, a cousin, an auntie, a friend, a mom and a grandmother. (or, abuelita, since I am currently learning Spanish)

a wife

I fully believe in showing overwhelming compassion for a woman who finds herself in the predicament of an unplanned pregnancy. That is why I support two Pregnancy Resource non-profits that help women with all the necessities to help her raise her child, including counseling during pregnancy and post-partum, as well as food for both her and the child, clothing for both, including diapers & formula, furniture such as a crib or playpen, car seat and stroller, and assistance with living accommodations. The other option, through these non-profits, is to find a loving family into which she can peacefully give her child up for adoption. Compassion needs to be extended towards both of the beating hearts represented here. Terminating her own flesh and blood will leave scars on the mother's psyche, no matter how much Oprah and her ilk chant otherwise. Plus, abortion ends the life of an innocent human being.

I've often thought about what I would have done had I been alive and in Nazi Germany during the late 1930's. I HOPE I would have "stood up" for the Jews, the mentally challenged, the physically challenged, Jehovah's witnesses and other disenfranchised groups that were targeted by that regime. The 3rd Reich notoriously DEHUMANIZED those people groups, much like pro-abortion advocates of today dehumanize the unborn. ("If we can get people to think of these ones as 'less than human' the public will object less strenuously.")

My hero, Dietrich Bonhoeffer did stand up against man's inhumanity to man of 1930's Germany. I highly recommend you read his biography.

What's brought us to today, with over 62+ million human beings exterminated "legally" (not morally) is summed up, I believe, here:

A quote attributed to Edmund Burke:

THE ONLY THING NECESSARY FOR THE TRIUMPH OF EVIL IS FOR GOOD MEN TO DO NOTHING."

I strongly oppose SJR 33,
Thank you.
