Measure: HB3501

Death of the commons. It's not fair. I'm already avoiding parks and many areas of Portland because I don't want myself or my family around danger. Drugs, mental instability, sanitation issues surround every single homeless encampment. I will not support any politicians who think this is helpful to the homeless problem. Go back to the drawing board and get this state away from last place in drug rehabilitation, work with our unions and get people working jobs that raise them out of poverty, help the poverty stricken children who are too emotionally unstable to perform in school. Stop wasting time and do something good for the people of Oregon, including the homeless people. It's not okay to let people suffer on the streets, find a way to rehabilitate these people and stop prolonging their suffering
