Hello, I deeply oppose this. I drive to work on interstate 5 every day early in the morning, and passing by the tents next to the interstate i have seen things I reported to police. A man was throwing rocks at cars going northbound on interstate 5 near central point, hitting the car in front of me. Another instance my van was struck by a pellet on the windshield around 6 am. I know it was fired from the tents because i was not near any other vehicles. Another instance a woman was standing in the middle of the interstate with her skirt up flashing traffic. All these instances were near these tent camps.
