

I have lived in Medford my whole life. Southern Oregon is one of the most beautiful places to live. Lately, it has changed. Last week I was driving to Target with my 4 little kids. As we turned into the Rogue Valley mall my son yells, "Mom! There is a man pooping in the parking lot!" Sure enough. Then we drove the back parking lot. A man was passed out almost half out of Bear Creek. My other child saw him. They were so concerned and we waited to make sure he moved. I feel unsafe to even go to the grocery store by myself anymore.
