

HB 4115 STAFF MEASURE SUMMARY
House Committee on Business and Labor

Prepared By: Erin Seiler, LPRO Analyst
Meeting Dates: 2/5

WHAT THE MEASURE DOES: The bill omits prison and hospital guards and low-rank police staff from the term used for people in charge. It also takes out some comms workers.

Detailed Summary: Excludes from the definition of “supervisory employee” an emergency communications worker, a guard at a correctional institution or mental hospital or a police officer serves in a rank equivalent to or below the rank of sergeant.

ISSUES DISCUSSED:

EFFECT OF AMENDMENT:

Detailed Summary:

BACKGROUND: The Public Employee Collective Bargaining Act (PECBA), enacted in 1973, codifies the laws governing employment relations and public employers and employees in the state, counties, cities, school districts, transportation districts, and other local governments, as well as private employers not subject to the jurisdiction of the National Labor Relations Board. Employees that are not covered under the PECBA and who are prohibited from organizing include elected officials, persons appointed to serve on boards or commissions, certain incarcerated persons, or persons who are confidential employees, supervisory employees or managerial employees. In 2014, the Legislative Assembly passed Senate Bill 1518, which modified the definition of “supervisory employee” to exclude firefighters who are prohibited from striking and who assign, transfer or direct the work of others but lack authority to hire, fire or impose economic discipline. In 2023, the Legislative Assembly passed SB 194, which further modified the definition of “supervisory employee” to exclude any employee of the Oregon State Police who serves in a rank equivalent to or below the rank of sergeant.

House Bill 4115 excludes from the definition of “supervisory employee” an emergency communications worker, a guard at a correctional institution or mental hospital or a police officer serves in a rank equivalent to or below the rank of sergeant, who is prohibited from striking, and who assigns, transfers, or directs the work of other employees but has no authority to hire, discharge, or impose economic discipline. Excluding from the meaning of “supervisory employee” makes them eligible to participate in a labor organization.
