BACKGROUND:

In 2019, the Oregon Legislative Assembly passed House Bill 2829 establishing the Oregon Conservation and Recreation Fund (OCRF). According to the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife, which carries out activities funded by OCRF, the fund “is a way for Oregonians to support projects that protect and enhance the species and habitats identified in the Oregon Conservation Strategy and create new opportunities for wildlife watching, urban conservation, community science, and other wildlife-associated recreation.”

Prior to 2023, beavers causing damage on private property were defined as predatory animals and rodents under animal laws administered by the Oregon Department of Agriculture (ODA), and unlimited taking of beaver on private land without a permit was allowed. House Bill 3464 (2023) removed beavers from the statutory definition of “predatory animal,” and allowed for killing beaver only by permit, with exceptions for threats to infrastructure or crops and for certain small forestland owners.
