

Integrated Service Delivery Model

Providing intentional, critical, and equitable supports that improve social circumstances and health outcomes, for individuals and communities to thrive.

Proponent:
Senator Deb Patterson

Building safety nets and providing critical strength-based opportunities

STABILITY

Providing essential supports around basic needs, academics and employment

HEALTH

Promoting optimal health by supporting mental, physical and nutritional priorities.

WELL-BEING

Connecting our communities with the resources and network necessary to thrive.

A lack of integrated and coordinated resources results in a more expensive and less than desirable outcome for communities. By providing centralized supports, a more sustainable impact across Marion and Polk Counties is possible. Utilizing an integrated service delivery approach, a cross-sector social services resource center directly supports affordable housing and improves the quality of life for community members who are facing critical needs and challenges.

The main goal of our community-based model is to address the Social Determinants of Health at the local level by focusing on stability, health, and well-being. The progression of these building blocks is key for addressing Oregon's top priorities around mental health, addiction, homelessness, and unemployment.

The proposed centralized service model will integrate a comprehensive network of strategic community partners, amplifying community assets and reducing barriers to support, while simultaneously supporting residents in affordable housing units. With over 15 strength-based partners*, this project addresses intervention, prevention and asset building, reducing the negative impact on individuals and families. By bringing a broad range of person and family-centered supports within easy reach, this model prevents minor social circumstances from spiraling out of control, ultimately reducing social service costs.

Hub & Spoke

Partners will use the resource center to create satellite and outreach services, and some will even use it as their base location.

Cross-Sector Collaboration

Utilizing private sector innovation, leveraging public sector resources and mobilizing social sector networks.

Co-Location

Allows a youth, adult or family the opportunity to receive much of what they need in one location, conveniently located next to the main transit hub.

Person-Centered

Meet local community members where they're at and flipping the question, "What's the matter with you?" to "What matters to you?"

Sustainable

These key design elements create the ability to reduce social service costs through shared infrastructure.

$6.28 MILLION - SENATE BILL 1570

BENEFITS TO A SHARED INFRASTRUCTURE:

- Reduced overhead costs that can be reinvested into individuals served.
- Reduced transportation barriers for individuals with multiple needs.
- Accelerated social outcomes through mobilizing already existing resources.
- Strengthened relationships with staff across multiple organizations.
- Provide wrap around supports for affordable housing across the community.

This is a path that can help bring greater stability, health and well-being for all. The investment will help galvanize our community toward creating long-term sustainable results.

Removing Barriers
Accelerating Outcomes

Mountain West Investment Corporation will be seeking to secure capital funding with the goal to develop 74 affordable housing units on the north end of the future social services resource center.

StoreIT will provide the critical space for centralized services, and offer employment opportunities and job shadowing with an aim to empower individuals and contribute to the economic growth of our community.
