Duties<sup>5</sup>

The board oversees the licensing and registration of behavior analysts, assistant behavior analysts, and behavior analyst interventionists. Applied behavior analysis is a therapeutic modality often used to treat people with autism spectrum disorder.

The board must:

- establish criteria and procedures for issuing licenses, establish professional methods and procedures guidelines, and promote quality health services by ensuring licensees practice with professional skill and safety;
- investigate complaints against licensees, applicants, or other persons alleged to be practicing in violation of law;
- keep confidential, and not disclose to the public, information obtained as part of an investigation, except as authorized in statute;
- issue an authorization to a military spouse or domestic partner if the military spouse or domestic partner provides the board with specified information;
- establish programs to increase representation of people of color and bilingual people on the board and in behavior analysis, and report biennially to the Legislative Assembly;
- maintain records of the racial and ethnic makeup of applicants and professionals regulated by the board; and

The board may:

- impose disciplinary sanction against a licensee or applicant by a vote;
- require fingerprints of a licensee seeking renewal of a license, an applicant for a license, a board employee or volunteer or an applicant for employment with the board; and
- in consultation with the Oregon Health Authority, adopt rules permitting practitioners to prescribe or dispense antibiotic drugs for the treatment of sexually transmitted infection to the partner of a patient without first examining the partner.
