- representatives of federally recognized Indian tribes and organizations serving Native Americans.

Appointees serve four-year terms. Any Judicial Department member is appointed by the Chief Justice and serves at their pleasure. The commission meets at least once every three months. The commission selects its chair and vice chair.

Duties⁵

The commission advises the Governor and the directors of the Department Human Services (DHS), the Oregon Health Authority, and the Oregon Youth authority, and makes recommendations for legislation. It also studies and reports on:

- legal and policy issues;
- accountability measures and outcomes;
- improving internal DHS operations;
- improving the availability of foster care and finding alternatives to foster care;
- the promotion of responsible statewide advocacy for children in foster care; and
- ongoing review of foster care providers and barriers to providing quality care.

The commission also considers reports, findings, and recommendations that have been or will be issued by legislative and agency task forces, work groups, and committees that have undertaken to study, review, or oversee the foster care system. It also establishes advisory or technical committees to aid its work and adopts rules to carry out its function.
