BACKGROUND:

Specialty courts as defined as problem-solving courts that operate under a specialized model to provide court-directed supervision and mandated treatment to nonviolent individuals with substance use or mental health issues underlying their criminal behavior. Specialty Court judges typically impose a strenuous regimen of treatment and accountability that requires a strong personal commitment from participants to take control of their lives to eliminate substance use and sustain a crime-free lifestyle. All specialty courts have the following in common: they serve a specific, targeted population with agreed-upon eligibility criteria; they rely on consistent judicial interaction throughout the duration of the program; and they require collaboration among a multidisciplinary team made up of judicial, treatment, supervision, legal staff, and other parties.

HB 4001 A STAFF MEASURE SUMMARY

The ad hoc growth in specialty courts merit review in terms of statutory authority, programmatic structure, coordination of funding, standardization of best practices and expected outcomes, measurements of actual performance, and legislative oversight.
