

Submitter: Hannah Butz

On Behalf
Of:

Committee: House Committee On Emergency Management, General
Government, and Veterans

Measure: HB4044

Hello! There is a huge importance to studying risks related to earthquake-induced toxic inhalation. It's known that a large earthquake will come to Oregon and will cause massive destruction. It is crucial to support this study so responsible governments, businesses and non-profits can have proper data to plan ways to ensure safety for us all. We need to invest in each other and our futures versus prioritizing capital. Thank you for your time and consideration.