Rural Oregonians should have their tax dollars set by their county. Likewise our tax dollars should go to programs that benefit us locally and regionally. Rural Oregonians who generally are lower income, should not have to fund improvements, roads and programs in Portland. Our tax dollars should not be raised to fund Portland's failed policies. First the police were defunded, now our "leaders" want taxpayers to fund public safety again. The monies should stay in our own community and be set by our county. This is exactly why the Greater Idaho movement is taking hold.
