Measure: HB4139

Hello,

When I was 31 and recently married, my husband suffered a severe brain injury and our lives were forever changed. I have had years of experiencing inadequate support services for survivors of brain injury, and their support networks. I strongly support the bill and encourage you to pass it out of committee ASAP.

Inpatient Rehab beds for those with serious brain injuries are critically needed, and families should not have to travel out of state to get them.
