

Submitter: Julie Quimby
On Behalf Of:
Committee: Senate Committee On Education
Measure: SB1583

We need to get back to the basic teaching of students in our school. We as adults have all become so political in education that the students get left behind. I feel most teachers are great educators and strive to give the best education to our students. Somewhere along the course of time, we have lost the ability to teach students basic reading, math, language arts, science, and history. The parents need to raise their students to be respectful and courteous to the teachers. They also need to teach them the importance of a good education. The teachers need to teach the students about subjects they are professionals in and keep personal feelings out of it. They need to teach and parents need to parent. No more making calculated judgments on the students. If raised right students know right from wrong. They are not perfect but know the difference.