

Submitter: JANET COLE

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Rules

Measure: HJR201

How can the State of Oregon Government propose to change our property taxes without any vote by the public. There is no limit on the property tax increase and pour money will go out of the community? How is this even legal? Any additional bonds or increases must receive approval by the voters. And how will this change our taxes? Will all those bonds and special assessments just go away? No I will not pay taxes that are not earmarked for our community. Who will pay for our streets? What about the school assessments? The public needs to know a whole lot more about this before we can even really comment on it. Stop this before it goes viral.