Measure: HJR201

I strongly oppose measure HJR 201 and do not feel residents in rural areas of Oregon should have to pay for unnecessary spending by state representatives in highly populated areas by raising our state income tax. Leave the areas in Oregon that adamantly disagree with such political waste alone, especially when the proposed spending is irresponsible and unnecessary. If certain highly populated areas within the state feel they need more whatever, they should pay for it themselves and not lay the burden on those who disagree and have no desire to participate or collect on whatever garbage this measure claims to provide.
