

Submitter: Charles Heitzman

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Rules

Measure: HJR201

To increase property taxes as the state battles housing insecurity will only inflame the issue. Residents are already taxed heavily and this will put vulnerable homeowners closer to the edge. Those that rent will see rents go up more as owners offset the tax. Nobody wins. Will so much taxes already in the system the state needs to work within its means or consider cutting extraneous programs.