Measure: HB4130

In 1998 I graduated with a Masters in Gerontology at USC and moved to Portland with my eye on OHSU. 26 years later, I am in solo private practice in Roseburg caring for rural Oregonians.

Medicine is my passion and Oregonians deserve nothing but the best in medical care. Allowing corporate medicine to takeover medicine in Oregon will trade worse outcomes, more cost, and poorer overall health for corporate profits.

Medicine is not a business, health is not a widget on a production line, and Oregon should not allow corporations to practice medicine or interfere in the sacred patient-physician relationship.
