Measure: HB4130

It's public knowledge that the US spends far more than other advanced countries and delivers far poorer patient outcomes than most other countries for the same medical issue(s). Why is that? It's because US corporations, driven by profit, manage to suck way more money out of the public coffer and deliver far less care for the same money. And why is that? Because patients are a captive audience.. Common sense tells you that this is a situation ripe for abuse of all kinds, especially financial since there the patient came be harmed without any visual sign of abuse.
