

Talented and Gifted Education Senate Education Committee

Dr. Alexa Pearson, Assistant Superintendent of the Office of Teaching,
Learning, and Assessment
Angela Allen, Talented and Gifted Education Specialist

Overview

"...It is essential to define giftedness in a way that both reflects best thinking in the field and moves beyond a focus on identification criteria to a deeper understanding of the complex nature of giftedness and the multi-faceted approach to services required to appropriately serve students with gifts and talents."

Behind the Numbers...

Currently Oregon's TAG population is 6.3% or 34,152 students

- TAG identification has declined proportional to overall enrollment decline
 - Like other areas, TAG identification was waived in 2020
 - New criteria adopted in 2022
- Between 2022 and 2024 there has been incremental gains in TAG identification numbers.
 - We continue to work towards closing persistent gaps in identification across student groups
 - Additional pathways for identification will likely continue to increase identification over time.

District Representation: TAG Advisory Committee

2022 State Board of Education Adopted New Identification Requirements

TAG Advisory Committee developed and provided feedback

Key Changes to TAG Identification Rule

Added Pathways, Meaning, and Context

- Use of local norms (building, district, region)
- Means to services or programs
- Culturally relevant
- Use of multiple modes and methods of gathering data
 - Including classroom-level and basal curricula performance

Removed Barriers

- State Education Agency percentile threshold
- Potential to Perform
- Deficit-based language (“despite,” “failure to,” etc.)
- Outdated language
- Exclusion of eligibility based on single assessment score

Current Shifts and Implementation

- Provide daily instruction in accordance with 581-022-2500 (3): “The instruction provided to identified students shall be designed to accommodate their assessed levels of learning and accelerated rates of learning.”
- Align to publicly available District-level TAG plans
- Implementing high-leverage instructional practices:
 - Curriculum compacting
 - Tiered lessons/assignments
 - Cluster grouping
 - Differentiation (inclusive of depth and complexity)
 - Student agency
 - Formative assessment as a process + responsive teaching
 - Acceleration (subject and whole grade)

Five Key Elements for Educators in all Settings

Gifted students...

- Require sufficient access to appropriate learning opportunities to realize their potential
- Can have learning and processing disorders that require specialized intervention and accommodation
- Come from all racial, ethnic, and cultural populations, as well as all economic strata
- Need support and guidance socially and emotionally as well as in their areas of talent
- Require varied services based on their changing needs
