ISSUES DISCUSSED:

EFFECT OF AMENDMENT:

-1 The amendment clarifies the requirement for community college boards to vote on the college's membership in associations. It prevents board members from receiving stipends until the next election after the board votes to offer the stipends. It also requires the boards to fill board vacancies within certain deadlines, and requires county commissioners to fill the vacancy if the board fails to do so.

Detailed Summary

- Clarifies that community college governing boards are required to vote on any changes to the college's membership in any association, including renewal and cancellation of a membership and not limited to membership in national or state associations.
- Clarifies that the requirement for voting on the college's association membership does not apply to student, faculty, and staff organizations' membership in their own associations.
- Prevents board members from receiving stipends until the next regular district election after the board votes to offer the stipends.
- Requires community college board members to fill any board vacancy that occurs at least 90 days before the next district election within 60 days.
- Requires the governing body of the county where the community college is primarily located to fill a vacancy within 10 days if the community college governing board fails to do so.
