BACKGROUND:

The Oregon Board of Accountancy (board) consists of seven members, serving three year terms. The board is tasked with regulating the practice of public accountancy by persons acting as certified public accounts or public accountants. The board also has authority to adopt rules for professional conduct to assist in controlling the quality of services offered by certified public accountants and public accountants. Rules of professional conduct include competency and technical expertise required to practice public accountancy, and responsibilities to the public and clients. The board is also able to impose discipline upon certified public accountants or public accountants for cause, which may include acts of fraud, deceit, or incompetence.

Senate Bill 797 modifies Oregon laws regulating the licensing of certified public accounts and public accounts.
