BACKGROUND:

Local workforce development boards are a system of business-led boards in all fifty states that are funded by the federal Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA). In Oregon, there are nine local workforce development boards, as well as a statewide Workforce & Talent Development Board (WTDB), which is tasked with advising the Governor on workforce matters and developing a strategic plan for workforce development. The Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC) is responsible for administering both state and federal workforce development grant programs in Oregon, and provides staff support to WTDB. On March 13, 2025, the House Committee on Higher Education and Workforce Development heard a presentation from the HECC on Oregon's workforce system, including the role of WTDB and the local workforce development boards.

The Oregon 2024 Talent Assessment, prepared by SRI on behalf of WTDB, identified a shortage in the heavy and tractor-trailer truck driver workforce and included analysis of the trends, challenges, and career pathways in the sector.
