

HB 3816 -1 STAFF MEASURE SUMMARY

House Committee On Judiciary

---

Prepared By: Kris Kolta, LPRO Analyst

Meeting Dates: 4/1

---

WHAT THE MEASURE DOES:

This measure directs the Department of Justice to study victims.

ISSUES DISCUSSED:

EFFECT OF AMENDMENT:

-1 The amendment replaces the measure and directs an insurance carrier upon collecting an award of restitution under ORS 137.103(3), ORS 419C.450, or ORS 811.706 to pay 50% of that award into the Criminal Injuries Compensation Fund. The full amount of a restitution award is credited to the defendant as an offset to any associated civil judgment.

BACKGROUND:

The purpose of ordering restitution at a criminal proceeding is not to provide full compensation to a crime victim. Rather, restitution is intended to correct a defendant’s behavior to accomplish both rehabilitation and deterrence. As such, restitution does not necessarily fully compensate the victim, does not include general or punitive damages, and a defendant cannot be required to pay damages beyond their ability to pay. State v. Hart, 299 Or 128, 138 (1985).

ORS 137.109(1) provides that an order of restitution does not impair a victim’s right to bring a civil action against the defendant although amounts paid in restitution are credited to the defendant. Restitution is intended as penal, not compensatory, and is best understood through the lens of criminal law and not as a means of seeking quasi-civil recovery. Id. at 139.
