BACKGROUND:

Nitrous oxide (N₂O), commonly known as laughing gas, is a type of short-acting sedative. It is a colorless, slightly sweet-smelling gas that you breathe in through a mask or nosepiece. Physicians and dentists have been using nitrous oxide since the mid-19th century. It is still one of the most common inhaled sedatives used today. It is fast-acting and wears off quickly. It has several uses in the automotive industry and the culinary industry that make it available to purchase over the counter.

In 2017, the Legislative Assembly enacted House Bill 3030, which prohibits businesses that make retail sales of nitrous oxide canisters from which an individual may directly inhale nitrous oxide from selling or delivering nitrous oxide canisters to an individual under age 18.

House Bill 3447 requires a business or an employee of a business that makes retail sales of nitrous oxide canisters that an individual may directly inhale nitrous oxide from to verify that the individual is at least age 18 before selling or delivering the nitrous oxide canister. HB 3447 also requires that a business that makes retail sales of these types of nitrous oxide canisters through an online ordering system obtain a signature and verify the age of the recipient before completing the delivery of the nitrous oxide canister.
