BACKGROUND:

Prior to the 2024 legislative session, Oregon public education boards had a variety of practices regarding remote meeting participation and recordings. Beaverton School Board allowed public Zoom participation and posts video recordings. David Douglas School Board livestreamed its meetings and posts video recordings. Klamath County School Board allowed the public Zoom participation in board meetings. Roseburg School Board posted video recordings. Seaside School Board permitted virtual participation via Zoom.

In response, Senate Bill 1502 \(2024\) required public education governing boards to post meetings online.
