BACKGROUND:

The Compacts of Free Association (COFA) are a series of treaties between the United States, the Federated States of Micronesia (FSM), the Republic of Palau, and the Republic of the Marshall Islands (RMI) allowing its citizens to freely travel, live, and work in the United States without visas or time constraints. Oregon has the third-largest COFA citizen population on the mainland (about 4,300), according to Census Bureau data. COFA citizens became eligible for Oregon Health Plan benefits under a federal law change in March 2021. They also qualify for SNAP benefits as part of the eligible non-citizen group, provided they meet all other eligibility requirements.

Senate Bill 442 establishes the COFA Shared Services Office to coordinate services for COFA citizens in accessing federal and social support benefits.
