WHAT THE MEASURE DOES:

The measure requires the Bureau of Labor and Industries (BOLI) to conduct ongoing advertising and education efforts to inform businesses and the public about the legal obligation for places of public accommodation to accept cash as payment for goods and services. The measure provides that BOLI must continue these efforts until it determines a high rate of compliance exists. The measure takes effect 91 days after adjournment sine die.

ISSUES DISCUSSED:

- How the measure is enforced
- The minimal fiscal impact statement
- Applicability to cities and other local governments

EFFECT OF AMENDMENT:

No amendment.

BACKGROUND:

Under ORS 659A.410, most businesses classified as places of public accommodation must accept U.S. coins and currency as payment, with some exceptions for online transactions, vending machines, and certain industries.

Senate Bill 1176 directs the Bureau of Labor and Industries (BOLI) to educate businesses and the public about this requirement through advertisements and outreach efforts to increase compliance.
