Recognizes and honors former Wallowa County Commissioner Susan Roberts for her service to this state.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Whereas Susan Roberts was born and raised in Wallowa County, Oregon, and lived in multiple towns within the county, including Minam, Wallowa, Joseph and Enterprise; and

Whereas Susan Roberts' diverse experience within the region gave her a unique perspective on its varied communities and the needs and values that drove and defined them, from rural ranching areas to small urban centers; and

Whereas Susan Roberts' family background was rooted in agriculture and timber, industries that have historically defined the economy of Wallowa County, and this connection to the land and its traditions shaped her approach to governance, emphasizing stewardship and practical problem solving; and

Whereas Susan Roberts attended elementary school in Minam and Wallowa, followed by high school in Wallowa, and she later pursued further education at a business school in Boise, Idaho, equipping herself with skills that would be vital to her extensive career in business management and public administration; and

Whereas Susan Roberts' early life instilled a strong work ethic and a sense of duty to her community, qualities that would define her career as a public servant; and

Whereas before entering politics, Susan Roberts spent over 35 years working for or managing businesses in Wallowa County; and

Whereas Susan Roberts' occupational background provided her with practical experience in local commerce, which later informed her economic development initiatives as a county commissioner; and

Whereas Susan Roberts served in the United States Marine Corps during the Vietnam era, from November 1967 to November 1970, and she cited that experience with pride, noting its role in shaping her core values in leadership and discipline; and

Whereas Susan Roberts' reverence for and service with the United States Marine Corps was driven in part by family tradition, as her father and brothers served as well, and that tradition continued with her granddaughter; and

Whereas Susan Roberts' entry into public service began with volunteer roles, including serving on the Enterprise School District 21 Budget Committee and the Enterprise City Budget Committee, and those early positions allowed her to develop a deep understanding of local governance and fiscal

1 management; and

2 Whereas Susan Roberts also participated in various community organizations, volunteering 3 wherever and whenever asked, further cementing her reputation as a dedicated community member;
4 and

5 Whereas Susan Roberts' involvement in her community extended to boards and commissions, 6 including the Enterprise Cemetery Maintenance District, reflecting her commitment to preserving 7 local heritage and infrastructure; and

8 Whereas Susan Roberts' formal political career began in Enterprise, the county seat of Wallowa
9 County, where she served on the City of Enterprise Planning Commission, gaining experience in land 10 use and urban development issues; and

11 Whereas Susan Roberts was later elected to the City of Enterprise City Council, serving for a 12 decade and honing her skills in policymaking and community engagement; and

13 Whereas Susan Roberts' tenure with the city council culminated in her election as mayor of the 14 City of Enterprise, and during the decade she held the role she oversaw several key projects in the 15 community, frequently in collaboration with other local leaders; and

16 Whereas as mayor, Susan Roberts' leadership style emphasized cooperation and community in-17 put, a philosophy she carried forward throughout her career; and

18 Whereas Susan Roberts' experience in city government provided her with a nuanced under-19 standing of the differences between municipal and county governance, although she noted that the 20 core principles of responsiveness and constituent service remained consistent; and

21 Whereas during her time as mayor, Susan Roberts was elected president of the League of 22 Oregon Cities, a significant honor that involved representing Oregon's cities before the Legislative 23 Assembly; and

24 Whereas as president of the League of Oregon Cities, she visited every city in the state of 25 Oregon, expanding her influence beyond Wallowa County and allowing her to advocate for rural 26 communities on a state level; and

27 Whereas in 2008, Susan Roberts was elected as Wallowa County Commissioner, a nonpartisan 28 role with a four-year term, and she began her first term in 2009; and

29 Whereas in Susan Roberts' first term as county commissioner, much attention was paid to the 30 dispersal of gray wolves from Idaho, and along with the Wallowa County Stockgrowers, Susan and 31 her fellow commissioners supported the development of the Oregon Wolf Conservation and Man-
32 agement Plan, which helped refund ranchers for livestock loss when investigations proved that loss 33 to be caused by wolves; and

34 Whereas Susan Roberts was on the ground herself for many of these investigations, and even 35 bought a pair of rubber BOGS boots to wear when her river sandals weren't up for the terrain; and

36 Whereas as county commissioner, Susan Roberts was instrumental in revitalizing the Wallowa
37 County Courthouse, overseeing several upgrades to the historic building, including the installation
38 of the Wallowa County Courthouse Fountain of Honor for the county's veterans, replacing the roof, 39 upgrading the electrical system, adding much-needed accessibility features including an elevator and 40 transforming the third floor, which had long been occupied only by squirrels and birds, into office 41 space for commissioners and administrative staff; and

42 Whereas as a longtime believer in exercising the county's coordination status with the federal 43 government, Susan Roberts, along with the other county commissioners and the Wallowa County 44 Natural Resource Advisory Committee, routinely engaged with the United States Forest Service to 45 provide input on project planning and implementation; and

1       Whereas when members of the public, local government officials and special interest groups
2       were unhappy with the United States Forest Service's Blue Mountains Plan Revision, Susan Roberts
3       traded in her BOGS for Gore-Tex chest waders and volunteered to cochair the Blue Mountains
4       Intergovernmental Council (BIC), a new alliance of eastern Oregon agencies; and

5       Whereas over the past six years, Susan Roberts and BIC affected key changes in the plan re-6       vision, including how it affected public land access and local economies; and

7       Whereas Susan Roberts' love for the county's history, culture and traditions was evident in her 8       efforts to preserve its heritage, from protecting natural landmarks to supporting community events 9       like the Wallowa County Fair; and

10       Whereas Susan Roberts always spoke fondly of her time in Wallowa County, whether visiting 11       ranches, picking elderberries or stopping at the Imnaha Store and Tavern for a basket of gizzards;

13       Whereas in May 2025, Wallowa County announced Susan Roberts' retirement, marking the end 14       of her 15-year tenure as county commissioner and over 40 years of public service; and

15       Whereas Susan Roberts' vision and commitment, her tenacity and her drive, and the unflappable 16       resolve that enabled her to forge ahead and solve problems no matter how great the challenge, will 17       be missed in Wallowa County; now, therefore,

18       Be It Resolved by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

19       That we, the members of the Eighty-third Legislative Assembly, celebrate the life and accom-
20       plishments of Susan Roberts, and we recognize and honor her contributions to the people of this 21       state.
