As I read this to you all, let us reflect on the importance of human safety determining policy change, NOT the other way around. To delay ACT rules is to look every Oregon citizen in the face and tell them their lives are less important than business profits.

Some greedy people will do anything for money. They are traitors to the people and think our environment will survive forever, regardless of their ignorant decisions. They sit here today in this room, working to destroy the future we all share. The ACT rules protects not only us, but generations to come. It's common sense; something severely lacking here today.
