Thank you for your time, as a resident of a community in Oregon that depends on a diesel vehicle to pull equipment, haul large animals and transport my family, banning diesel vehicles and replacing them with electric vehicles will not work for my needs. I cannot afford to purchase an electric vehicle, let alone be forced to purchase a vehicle that will Not meet the daily needs of my family. I cannot afford to install a charging station at my home and I cannot afford to wait at a public use charging station to charge an electric vehicle. Electric vehicles are a disadvantage to many who choose to live in a rural community.

Thank you,
Dennis.
