Measure, Appointment or Topic: HB3119

Oregon must not delay on any and all actions that contribute to a reduction in Green House Gasses (no matter the size of reduction). The science and observable evidence of predicted impacts of rapid climate change are adequate to justify radical and appropriate actions. ACT may incentivize auto makers to provide us, in a timely manner, the types of vehicles needed to transition away from fossil fuels. The urgency of this transition is due, in part, to the auto makers refusal to act in a responsible manner regarding development timelines. I am in opposition to HB 3119 and any other efforts designed to delay action on reducing GHGs.
