Who ever decided to try to make this a law is 100 percent wrong. You are obviously not thinking about helping the people you are only thinking about money. And how you can u lost 000,000,001 of the taxes. This is helping people who can not drive or take time off. A lot of people who win big want to cash it same day not wait 4-5 weeks to be a check in the mail cause they want to continue to keep gambling so they cash it where they can and go back. So you're really making more money from them putting it back in the machines. But your thinking is how you lost that tiny percent and it's honestly not right. I believe a lot of people will stop and just turn to the new casinos they are opening here which have already and I'll be one of them if this passes.
