Please take the time to read Inconvenient Facts. Easy reading. It provides all of its references. The CO2 density is near the low for the history of the world. You need to consider the importance of CO2 to lives. At what level of CO2 density does all the plants on earth die? What was the density of CO2 during the Jurassic period? Make you decisions based on facts not assumptions. Please take the time to make a good decision. Thanks for your time and consideration, Gary W
