I am a family doctor and an organic farmer. I sell food and vegetables to customers at the Beaverton farmers market. I am also run a CSA with my husband. It is vital to have snap benefits, extend and support Oregonians as they try to make smart choices in the food they provide for their family. Eating fresh vegetables is an essential part of staying healthy. I want my tax dollars to go to supporting programs like this. I want to see my patients and customers stay healthy, eat more plants and thrive.
