Good morning,

My name is Teresa Simon, my husband and I farm organic hay and grain in the Klamath basin. Our entire farm is reliant on diesel (water pumps, tractors, swathers, balers, hay squeeze, combines, semi-trucks, pickups). If farmers have to replace all of their diesel equipment they would have to charge an arm and a leg for the product or go bankrupt. Definitely not a win either way.

Thank you for taking the time and keeping an open mind to consider how this will effect your constituents.
