Measure, Appointment or Topic: HB2931

As one of many "petulant children" in Oregon who pay our servants to call us names from the marble nuthouse, I can safely say that our economy (the real one, based on natural resources) has been depleted by the neoEnviro lawyers, so there is no more water of wealth in the proverbial well. You can blame and shame us all you want, but doing so will not get our resource-based wealth reinstated again. Sadly, Oregon's service-based economy has only served government and utility companies since no wealth was actually generated - only IOUs passed between hands, which is totally unsustainable economically. This high-cost bill is a hard no. We encourage this committee to strongly oppose it.
