I am thrilled that you are considering allowing SXS's on the road. We travel all over the western part of the United States and when we are camping it is our only mode of transportation. We support the local economies where we ride by eating at restaurants, buying fuel, entertainment, buying groceries. Personally I believe they are safer than some of the vehicles we see on the road. We have full coverage insurance and properly licensed. As we speak we are in Arizona having a blast, Please pass this.
