Utv's safer than a motorcycle and a high majority of people already have full coverage insurance on them unlike so many people that don't have any insurance on their cars they drive down the road everyday. So many states already allow it and with how many rural areas in Oregon with access to trails and logging roads close to people's houses it just makes sense rather than having to load your utv on a trailer to haul it a few miles so you can go on public land and use it. Lots of reasons why it would be a great option.
