I have been a firm believer for years now that the state of Oregon needs to legalize the use of UTV/SXS vehicles on our roadways. I don't support them on freeways, but there is no reason for them to not be on surface streets and rural roads. This would also be another revenue stream for the state in vehicle licensing fees. It is very easy to make them street legal. There are multiple aftermarket companies with kits available to add the needed lighting and horns required for vehicles on our roadways today. Most states on the west coast already have areas in which these vehicles can be licensed for street use. Oregon is the only state that doesn't. Please vote this in for us.
