I support this for the following reasons.

We are small town, it is more energy efficient to use an atv to go 2 blocks to get a few groceries, rather than a large suv.

It allows for a larger amount of people to be mobile.

Atvs are built for inclimate weather, especially in rural areas.

There is a tax income opportunity for each town with registration fees.

This would give congested areas a relief as well.

Would be helpful to enforce vehicle speed limits in residential areas.
