I support that utv and atv should be able to ride on the roads as long as they have the right equipment to be street leagal especially since u can go buy a endouro which are street leagal and off road leagal. I mean I know people that have utv that have headlights tail lights break lights which they come with and there is a lot of add ons u can buy like turn signals windshields wipers and so on so I 100% support that this should be passed
