

Senate Bill 777 is a blatant attempt to funnel taxpayer dollars into the pockets of livestock producers—at the expense of science, fairness, and Oregon’s fragile wolf population. Oregon should be investing in science-based solutions—not rewarding those who refuse to adapt.