Hello!

My name is Karyn O'Bryant, and I am a professional voice actor based in the Portland, OR, area.

As a local working artist who does voiceover for film, television, video games, and virtual reality, I am the direct beneficiary of increases in Oregon media production, and its funding. Portland's RebeLoop loop group (of which I'm a longtime member), does vocal post-production work with Oregon's finest media producers. We're knocking the socks off the looping capabilities of the Los Angeles-based groups - and we're so proud of that. The increase in media production through sources like the OPIF creates an increase in work opportunities for myself and for RebeLoop -- and through our contribution, is a vital part of the overall excellence of Oregon-produced media.

Thanks for supporting the OPIF, and for increasing funding for this important resource.

Sincerely,

Karyn O'Bryant
