On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Judiciary

Measure, Appointment or Topic: HB2774

Rep. Evans wrote this bill vaguely, by intention. It does accomplish two things. 1) It inserts the State between parents and their children (a favorite Democrat ploy), and 2) it opens a loophole as big as a barn to allow for "certain (unspecified) acts with a firearm." This clause could be interpreted extremely broadly, resulting in State-approved Supervisors invading a family for practically any firearms violation. (And who will pay these Supervisors in a state that is already up to its eyeballs in debt?)

As I am fond of saying, this bill should NEVER have seen the light of day. Please withdraw HB 2774 from consideration.
