Taking away our right to utilize naturalpathic medicine and punishing doctors who have chosen to practice the holistic approach is not only ethically wrong but you are forcing your beliefs on everyone. Holistic medicine has been around long before pharmaceutical companies. Holistic is about healing the individual not through pills or vaccines but as a whole. The foods we eat, lifestyle improvements, mental and emotional wellbeing and herbal remedies and supplements that have healed. Western medicine has its place for emergency care or severe medical care that the holistic approach may not be the only way to heal. To censor not only holistic approach you are denying care to those of us who have found the best care and healing through holistic practices.

I spent 15 years going through western medicine doctors for chronic illness and continuously was told to take pills and no one would listen. I finally turned to naturalpathic doctor and they listened and guided me a through a personal healing plan and 4 years later I have been healed, off every single medication and healthy.

My family is healthy and we have adopted a lifestyle that has not only improved our health but our mental and emotional wellbeing.

Passing this bill you are repeating history as the Rockefellers did in 1920's having the government claim naturalpathic medicine was "alternative" so they could have their pockets filled by big pharma creating the business of western medicine.

This is the United States of America telling us how to use what type of medical medicine to use you are no different than communist countries controlling its citizens.
