

Submitter: Juliette Dunn

On Behalf Of:

Committee: Senate Committee On Energy and Environment

Measure, Appointment or Topic: SB222

Salmon are not endangered because of species which naturally prey on them. Human-caused tampering with the natural habitat of salmon and the ecosystem is the cause, and changing this should be the solution. Killing native species for acting in their natural role in an ecosystem is only deflecting the blame and harming animals which have done nothing wrong.